Measuring National Evaluation Systems The case of the National Evaluation Capacities Index (INCE)

Sarah Klier

German Institute for Development Evaluation (DEval)

In this presentation I will talk about

- 1) why culture and local approaches to evaluation matter, when we talk about National Evaluation Systems (NES),
- 2) why participation and reflection is key when we want to measure NES in a systematic way,
- 3) how the National Evaluation Capacities Index (INCE) helped to align Evaluation Capacity Development work in Latin America and the Caribbean.

Actors involved in the development and application of the National Evaluation Capacities Index (INCE)

With financial support from the Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development

The five dimensions of a National Evaluation System

Use of evaluations

Incidence of evaluation results for decision-making, learning and accountability.

Quality of evaluations

Alignment of evaluation processes and products with international standards.

Institutional structure

Elements underpinning the evaluation function in the country.

Multi-agent spaces

Openness to stakeholder participation in the development of the national evaluation system.

Evaluation offer

Offer of professional evaluation services, including academic training programmes.
